Year 4 National Arboretum & National Botanic Gardens

As part of this term's inquiry unit, 'The Great Southern Lands', Year 4 will be going on an excursion to the National Arboretum and the National Botanic Gardens. At both venues our students will participate in a guided tour where they will explore the various environments of Australia and the different trees growing at the Arboretum. Using climate zones and maps they will examine from what part of the world and climate these trees come. Students will be investigating types of flora from different climates and will use the information found during our visit when we return to the classroom. This excursion will provide opportunities for students to further develop learning concepts covered in class as part of our Geography and Science units.
